Part I, Line 2 - Grantmakers Explanation For Monitoring Use of Funds Outside US

The only grant funds disbursed outside of the U.S. are those granted to organizations in Israel. MAZON contracts with an Israel Program Director who is based in Israel to meet with grantees on a regular basis, monitor their activities, and partner with them on appropriate efforts. These grantees must submit annual written reports to the Israel Director and the Vice-President of Programs as a requirement of funding, which are shared with the Board of Directors. The report requires a narrative account of what was accomplished by the expenditure of the grant funds during the period covered by the grant. To ensure compliance by grantees, they are required to sign a grant contract that binds them to provide the work they have proposed for funding as well as a report on activities performed with the grant. This contract also obligates grantees to inform MAZON in advance if they are unable to carry out the work for which a grant was received, in order to get MAZON approval for alternative use of the grant or to return the funds to MAZON. MAZON holds bi-monthly convenings of multiple grantee cohorts, to discuss programs and jointly strategize activities, which all grantees are required to attend. MAZON also uses regularized site visits, phone calls, emails and letter communications to monitor the grantees' activities and expenditures. Finally, regular updates are provided to the Board of Directors, including insights into progress toward goals articulated in the grantee proposals.

Part IV Supplemental Information. Provide the information required in Part I, line 2; Part III, column (b); and any other additional information.Part I, Line 2 - Procedures for Monitoring Use of Grants Funds in U.S.

An annual report is required from all organizations that have received a grant from the organization, which is reviewed by staff and then reviewed with the Board of Directors. The report requires a narrative and financial account (in U.S. Dollars) of what was accomplished by the expenditure of the grant funds during the period covered by the grant. To ensure compliance by grantees, they are required to sign a grant contract that binds them to provide a report on activities performed with the grant. The organization holds multiple telephonic conference calls to discuss programs among grantees and uncover challenges and successes. In addition, the organization holds one in-person conference which all grantees are required to attend. MAZON also uses site visits, phone calls, emails and letter communications to monitor the grantees'

Form 990, Part XII, Line 2 - Change of Oversight or Selection Process

The process has not changed from the prior year.

For more than 30 years, MAZON has been committed to ensuring that vulnerable people have access to the resources they need to be able to put food on the table. MAZON is a leading voice in the United States and in Israel, on anti-hunger issues, especially those that involve populations or problems that have been previously overlooked or ignored.

MAZON recognized the importance of ensuring that food insecure Americans and Israelis have access to nutritious food now, while also working to develop and advance long-term solutions to hunger.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a-Program Service Accomplishments(Continued)

MAZON is committed to shining a spotlight on issues and populations where the government and other organizations have yet to turn their focus. The mainstream response to hunger leaves the unique challenges of too many Americans overlooked, underfunded, or disregarded, including by government nutrition supplement programs like SNAP and WIC. MAZON understands that blanket solutions will not meet the needs of every community, and that sometimes, special focus is required to remove the unique barriers some of our most vulnerable communities face in accessing adequate, nutritious food.

Unique Barriers Require Thoughtful Solutions:

MAZON's Jewish values have led us to a unique role in the anti-hunger movement: working to support under-addressed issues and communities. Not only does MAZON shine a spotlight on these pressing concerns; we draw the attention of policymakers, anti-hunger organizations, and the public to the unique roadblocks standing in the way to food security. Our work ensures that there are meaningful and lasting solutions that overcome these challenges. This strategy requires MAZON to be nimble and able to identify which issues need our particular expertise and for how long. Currently, MAZON is spotlighting the unique barriers facing communities such as active-duty military and their families, veterans, Indigenous communities, single mothers, LGBTQ older adults, college students, and the people of Puerto Rico and the territories.

MAZON listens to, learns from, and works in solidarity with these communities to realize change through three interrelated strategies:

Education: MAZON works closely with synagogue partners, schools, and organizations to educate individuals and communities about the scope of hunger and how we can work together to end it. Through groundbreaking experiential education programs and activities like This is Hunger™ and its innovative new virtual experience, The Hunger Museum™, MAZON is shifting the narrative about who is vulnerable to hunger and why. We are creating a powerful network of anti-hunger advocates across the country.

Capacity-Building: Throughout MAZON's history, we have invested in system-changing efforts across the U.S., recognizing that states have a great deal of import and influence in helping to ensure that all those in their communities can feed themselves and their families. MAZON makes deep, multi-year investments in emerging anti-hunger organizations across the United States, partnering with them to advance public education, community organizing, and policy proposals to eliminate hunger.

Advocacy: For nearly 40 years, MAZON has been the leading Jewish voice in advancing lasting policy solutions to reverse the course of hunger in this country. MAZON's advocacy and expertise has led to meaningful change for Americans of all faiths and backgrounds. From drafting and championing critical policies in important legislation, to testifying to Congress, to hosting meaningful conversations with legislators – MAZON is a strong advocate, speaking truth to power at every level of government.

FY 2022 Highlights:

In September 2022, after decades of education and outreach by MAZON and our partners, President Biden hosted the White House Conference on Hunger, Nutrition, and Health in Washington, DC. The historic summit – the first in over 50 years – highlighted vital short-term changes to provide better support for people facing hunger, especially increasing benefits and eliminating barriers to key federal anti-hunger programs like SNAP and WIC. In advance of the conference, MAZON testified before the House Rules Committee during its series of roundtable conversations, participated in Tufts University's task force to inform the conference, and published several opinion articles, resources, and statements to educate and engage the Jewish, interfaith, and anti-hunger communities.

In March 2023, MAZON launched a groundbreaking all-virtual experience: The Hunger Museum™. Nearly three years in the making, The Hunger Museum tells the story of over 100 years of hunger and anti-hunger public policy in America. Through six galleries and hundreds of artifacts, MAZON's Hunger Museum illuminates the political, economic, societal, and cultural influences of various eras, revealing the expansion and dismantlement of the American social safety net over the last century and how – with this history in mind – we can forge a path forward to end hunger. MAZON is now hosting private and public tours of The Hunger Museum to bring this critically important information to the public.

For nearly a decade, MAZON has been leading the national effort to address hunger among military families by advancing policy solutions to remove barriers to nutrition assistance and explore ways that families can connect with available benefits. Since the release of MAZON's groundbreaking 2021 report, "Hungry in the Military: Food Insecurity Among Military Families in the U.S." which spotlighted recommendations for critical policy changes, there have been significant advancements on this issue. Perhaps most importantly, MAZON was instrumental in creating the Military Family Basic Needs Allowance, which was enacted with bipartisan support in the Fiscal Year 2022 National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA). We have been working closely with our partners to push for the improvements to the program that are necessary to ensure it is implemented effectively and helps as many people as possible.

MAZON's work has also resulted in a sea change in the attitudes of policymakers about military hunger. Most notable has been the Pentagon's acknowledgment that 24% of military families struggle with hunger, as well as the release of a 2022 report, "Strengthening Food Security in the Force: Strategy and Roadmap," which is a direct outcome of MAZON's years of work on this issue at all levels of government. In Congress, the House Armed Services Committee formed a new subcommittee to focus exclusively on quality-of-life issues for military service members, including hunger. These shifts are particularly significant within the broader context of longstanding hostility to basic recognition of this problem by our leaders.

sovereignty in Indian Country is rooted in recognizing that Tribal Nations are sovereign and self-determining nations. MAZON uses its voice and influence with federal and state policymakers to elevate and amplify its Native partners' concerns about and solutions to food security and food sovereignty in Indian Country. In light of the complex historical and contemporary challenges to food access and health disparities among Indigenous communities, MAZON supports Tribal self-determination and believes that Tribal leaders are best positioned to feed their people. We partner with Indigenous advocates and communities to strengthen food systems in Indian Country and improve access to healthy and traditional foods by advancing Native-led policy change at the federal, state, and Tribal levels.

One of the highest priorities for our partners, and so for MAZON, is securing full, direct, Tribal administration of all federal food assistance programs. The sovereign status of Tribal Nations is too often bypassed and ignored in the administration of these programs. Allowing Tribes to directly administer these assistance programs would provide them the same flexibilities that states have to manage the programs and shift resources when necessary during times of crisis.

MAZON is concerned about food insecurity among LGBTQ older adults, who often face unique and persistent challenges to accessing services through the charitable food network, in addition to mounting barriers to federal nutrition safety net programs. We are working to build upon research from the Williams Institute at UCLA School of Law's study on the lived experiences of LGBTQ adults experiencing food insecurity. We are building awareness about the various barriers LGBTQ seniors experience in accessing food assistance and advancing policies that address these barriers.

MAZON is committed to confronting the painful reality of food insecurity among veterans – educating various stakeholders about the unique needs and barriers facing the men and women who served our country. Much of this work focuses on uplifting legislation and programmatic solutions to close the veteran SNAP participation gap, including adjusting SNAP's consideration of U.S. Department of Veterans' Affairs (VA) disability ratings, supporting veteran SNAP outreach initiatives, and exempting veterans from work requirements for the purposes of qualifying for SNAP.

MAZON has coordinated and led trainings about veteran food insecurity in partnership with Combined Arms and the Institute for Veterans and Military Families at Syracuse University. We recently produced an online training module for veteran service providers and caregivers about veteran food insecurity, which is available through the platform PsychArmor. We are working with PsychArmor to build a wider audience for the training, as well as a public service announcement (PSA) to reach as many veterans as possible through mainstream channels. We also partner with the VA to develop and distribute resources and toolkits about food insecurity and nutrition for veterans.

Particularly since the COVID-19 pandemic exacerbated the hunger crisis in America, MAZON is shining a light on hunger among single mothers who often face heightened barriers to food security and economic stability. National data estimates that 80% of single parents in the U.S. are women, and 40% of these single mothers are experiencing food insecurity. Rising food prices, the cost of childcare, and state restrictions have all posed disproportionate economic setbacks for single mothers that create additional barriers to accessing food. MAZON is focused on preventing any additional hurdles to SNAP eligibility criteria for single mothers and advancing policies that address the childcare cost component.

MAZON is working to illuminate hunger disparities facing the people of Puerto Rico who currently cannot access the same nutrition assistance as their fellow Americans living stateside. Though a huge portion of the island's population lives in poverty, Congress cut Puerto Rico from SNAP in 1981, so U.S. citizens living on the land can now only access the limited and under-funded Nutrition Assistance Program (NAP). MAZON is advocating for Congress to transition Puerto Rico back to SNAP so they can access adequate benefits that can expand during times of great need.

In recent years, MAZON and our partners have achieved historic advancements in Israel. We lead a powerful anti-hunger advocacy coalition of 17 partner organizations, and our coalition recently secured funding to address food insecurity in Israel's national budget – a profound milestone that sets an important new precedent. Even during a time of great political instability in Israel, we continue to raise the visibility of food insecurity, which is now a central discussion point in Israeli civil society as well as government ministries and Knesset committees. We were a leading force in the formation of Israel's National Council of Food Security, and we continue to build the infrastructure to position food security – and long-term, government-led solutions to end hunger for all Israelis – as a prominent priority issue for both the Israeli government and civil society.

MAZON continues to invest in state-based synagogue civic engagement, which has become an even more urgent focus in the last few years, as polarization continues to grow in our country. As such, MAZON engages synagogue partners – transforming them into effective centers of anti-hunger efforts to advance the interests and dignity of those struggling with food insecurity. Our synagogue partners learn that addressing hunger is rooted in Jewish values and that the organized Jewish community plays a critical role in the fight against hunger. In this work, strong local leaders emerge, congregations develop a deeper understanding of hunger and its causes, experience meaningful civic engagement, and acquire an understanding of the complex causes of hunger and the programs and policies that address its solutions. Through MAZON, these Jewish leaders forge new alliances to address hunger at the state and local levels and elevate the importance of ending hunger in their local communities.

For example, this year, MAZON worked closely with synagogue partners, clergy leaders, and anti-hunger partners in Colorado to support the first-ever state ballot initiative securing free school meals. MAZON was proud to spearhead Jewish community efforts as a member of the statewide coalition that was pushing for this historic ballot measure, urging more states to follow Colorado's bold example and provide universal free meals so that every child has the opportunity to learn.

MAZON's expertise in seeding, supporting, and strengthening the anti-hunger movement around the country uniquely positions it to reinvest in those ecosystems where populations are most vulnerable and the anti-hunger infrastructures are the most under-resourced. It is in these communities that MAZON has an out-sized influence, impact and probability of successfully growing anti-hunger programs to more reliably respond to the growing needs of those who struggle in their communities.

MAZON's most recent partnership grants in the U.S. expanded our Emerging Advocacy Fund to a total of 52 partner organizations in 19 states and Puerto Rico. Our goal for these investments is to nurture a community of anti-hunger advocates who are interconnected and motivated to share best practices, successes, challenges, resources, and technical assistance. This year, MAZON's partner organizations continued to work in support of programs and policies to alleviate hunger in their states with a particular focus on equity. Many of them did so within the context of persistent and pervasive hunger facing uphill battles, but they remain committed to their work and the people they serve – and they are supported in these efforts with the knowledge that MAZON is invested not only in seeing immediate gains, but in building their capacity for long-term success.

In addition, MAZON's Quick Reaction Fund enables us, and our partners, to respond quickly to opportunities in the public sphere, providing the anti-hunger movement with rapid access to small investments of revenue that can help capitalize on these opportunities, outside of normal, lengthier grant processes.
